

CLINICAL APPLICATION OF THE SYSTEMIC FAMILY CONSTELLATION WORK

The therapeutic application of Systemic Family Constellation Work (SFCW) has emerged from the fields of family therapy, systems theory, and phenomenology. In the SFCW process, the family system dynamics that stem from multigenerational trauma can be accessed (e.g., exclusion of family members, early death of loved ones, war-related traumas, loss of country or family fortune.) This process unveils a patient's hidden loyalties and subliminal identification with his or her extended family members, including previous generations. Such loyalty and identification at times brings destructive life patterns to family members of the current generation. In European psychosomatic hospitals and residential rehab facilities, SFCW is commonly used as an adjunct treatment for addictions, anxiety and eating disorders, depression and chronic health issues.

Focusing: A Somatic Approach to Psychotherapy

John Amodeo, Ph.D., MFT

One transparent benefit of this multi-generational trauma approach is the procedural inclusion of grandparents and great grandparents, an opening of ancestral appreciation, and allowing extended social relations into one's family identity. The therapeutic process will result in the patient's deeper sense of historical belonging and biological lineage awareness.

Along with giving an overview of SFCW, Dr. Essl will explain the screening protocol used to assess trauma in family systems, and she will outline early bonding interventions.

Dr. Brigitte Essl is licensed as a Doctor of Medicine (European) and Doctor of Chiropractic (USA). She also obtained a Masters in Counseling Psychology from Pacifica Graduate Institute in 1991. From 1992 until 1995 she received extensive training in homeopathy in Vienna, Austria. She currently works in private practice in Mill Valley doing homeopathy, functional medicine, body-oriented trauma therapy, and Systemic Family Constellation Work.

President's Message

Susan Hartz, MFT

Here we are in a new year, depending on how you look at it either the last year of one decade or the first year of the next. It's the month of Janus, the patron of endings and beginnings and we look back to celebrate the complexity and richness of the year past and forward to the fresh unknown year ahead. There's something of hope in January, though it's the bleakest month of the year, when even here in northern California some plants are dormant, trees bare, days short and often gray. Yet we know from past experience that this time of rest is necessary for the growth that is to come.

For the year past, I want to express gratitude for and to the people who have stepped up to help keep the chapter vital and make my job easier. First, for Kate Maxwell and Gail Van Buuren who as Past Presidents have been ever willing and gracious in answering questions, giving encouragement, keeping things running – meetings, newsletter, workshops, directory. For Gail as Conference Chair and Newsletter Editor, and her continuing work even as she has needed to take personal leave. For Margaret Newport as our Secretary and Trauma Response Chair, and Kim Gagnon as Treasurer, thank you for your competent and diligent work. To our Programs Chair, Judith Peletz, who is ready to help wherever needed, and provides us with a warm, inviting place to have our board meetings, not to mention her great baking! And for her committee members, Debbie Oliver and Michael Krikorian, who together have arranged for a year of good speakers and then given us a newsletter review for those who weren't able to make the meeting. Thanks also to Christine Erickson, who early in the year was part of the committee and who has given many years of dedicated service, and to Bettina O'Brien for her time as Membership Chair and work on the Directory before needing to step down due to work schedule.

Thanks to our Committee Chairs: F. Michael Montgomery for keeping our website/referral service going, Jan Lowry-Cole for continuing to arrange great complimentary offerings for our 5150 Drawing each month, Coralia Serafim for chairing the Ethics Committee, and Brenda Brazil for being a gracious Hospitality Chair for each of our meetings. And thanks to Myra Polikoff for stepping up to take care of CEUs. Karen Nemrow deserves a hand as Intern Chair; thank you for keeping interns posted with relevant news, and for your time doing intern meetings. And our unsung heroes, the group who get together each month to print, fold, and post the newsletter, Michael Krikorian, Romy Brock, Jackie Good, and Lanie Abrams. Thank you also to Romy for your work on the Directory contacting our advertisers, and to all the Board members who worked so hard to get the Directory published. Much appreciation goes to everyone who volunteered to help put on our two workshops. And last, many thanks to Clare Moore, our conscientious Administrative Consultant who helps keep everything running smoothly. I am fervently hoping I didn't miss anyone, but if I did please know that you, too, are included in my gratitude. It takes us all to make things work well.

Looking to the year ahead, most of our Board members are willing to continue to serve, and at our December meeting, we elected and welcomed both a new Membership Chair, Catherine Capitani, and Elaine Sohler-Gayler as our President-Elect for 2010, which means she will take over as President in 2011! And we will soon have our '10 Law & Ethics Workshop and have a slate of volunteers for that; thank you to these members for signing up to help out.

Someone asked me what I have found to be the best about being your President this past year. My first thought is getting to know and work with the great team who make up the Board. But also, I feel like I belong to the chapter in a way I hadn't felt before, even though I've been a member for a long time, and I've looked forward to seeing everyone at the meetings. So I want to thank all of you for giving me this chance to serve in this capacity.

Happy New Year!

What You Missed in November By Judith Peletz

I have just returned home from the RECAMFT holiday brunch. If you weren't there, we missed you. If you were there you know what I mean when I say it was a moving experience. Jan Ogren and Michael Montgomery treated us to some poetry and readings along with personal sharing. The topic was, "Honoring our Clients." I'm sure that all of us know what it feels like to miss clients who have left therapy, to wish them well in our hearts, and to feel thankful for the gifts they have given us. Usually we keep those feelings and thoughts to ourselves. Being a rather shy person who doesn't like talking in front of a group, I surprised myself by being quick to tell about 3 women clients who taught me so much beginning when I was still an intern. In spite of horrific histories of abuse, limited education, and almost no family or financial resources, they demonstrated such courage living their lives. They also challenged me and taught me in ways that no workshop or class ever has. Today was a wonderful opportunity to honor them and to share my feelings with understanding colleagues. In addition, hearing the stories shared by other therapists in the room united us and opened us to deeper appreciation of our clients, of our work, and of each other. I left the meeting feeling that what we experienced was sacred and precious. Many thanks to Jan and Michael for leading us in the process, to Eddie Rosen, who provided a short body awareness experience, and especially, thanks to you, my fellow colleagues. I feel so lucky to be part of RECAMFT.
